Last chance for housing legacy to be included in Brisbane 2032 Games plan

Dear colleagues,

It was wonderful seeing so many of you join us at our Regional Forum and Peaks Partnership CEO and Leaders' Lunch this week. I was deeply encouraged by the number of individuals and organisations across all backgrounds who are dedicated to seeing better housing outcomes for vulnerable Queenslanders. For those who weren't able to attend, we will release a detailed summary next week.

Today, I'm urging you to spend ten minutes completing the Brisbane 2032 Olympic and Paralympic Games Legacy Games consultation survey, which closes on 25 June 2023. It measures support for ideas proposed in the legacy consultation paper, including a Housing Trust which can capture value from the procurement of goods and services related to the Games.

This is a proposition we have been strongly advocating for, alongside the transfer of homes from the Athletes' Villages into the ownership and management of community housing providers so these homes are available in perpetuity to vulnerable households. You can read more about our Brisbane 2032 Legacy position in this media release.

For your convenience, we have provided a guide to including affordable housing outcomes in your survey response below.

Please note, the free-text responses included here are only suggestions and are based on the limited response space available in the survey. Please adjust your answers however you feel best responds to the question. If you would like more information to guide your response, we released a comprehensive 'Go for

Gold' social inclusion legacy report with Urbis last year which unpacks these issues in more detail.

Steps to include affordable housing in your survey response

Question 1: Select 'yes' to the question: Would you like to provide feedback on the theme 'Sport, Health and Social Inclusion'.

Question 2: Select Inclusive, Affordable Housing (Example idea: Olympic and Paralympic Housing Trust). Note: You can select more than one focus area (and we encourage you to do so – it will just mean that the questions which follow in your survey are in a different order to this example)

Question 3: Inclusive, Affordable Housing: What practical steps or ideas can we do to deliver against this focus area? A housing trust and the transfer of homes from the Athletes' Villages into the ownership and management of community housing providers so these homes are available in perpetuity to vulnerable households.

Question 4: Inclusive, Affordable Housing: Who could benefit from this focus area?

Select 'Queensland wide'. (A housing trust is a way of ensuring that benefits from Brisbane 2032 are distributed throughout the State, given the push factors from the SEQ housing market are already impacting regional areas.)

Question 5: What are the positive outcomes that could be achieved by 2042 through this focus area? (100 characters max.)

Helping to ensure homelessness is only rare, brief, and non-recurring for all Queenslanders.
